Learning to rank or machine-learned ranking (MLR) is the application of machine learning, typically supervised, semi-supervised or reinforcement learning, in the construction of ranking models for information retrieval systems. Training data consists of lists of items with some partial order specified between items in each list.

Bag-of-Words Model. We cannot work with text directly when using machine learning algorithms. Instead, we need to convert the text to numbers. We may want to perform classification of documents, so each document is an "input" and a class label is the "output" for our predictive algorithm.
