Customs valuation is the process where customs authorities assign a monetary value to a good or service for the purposes of import or export. Generally, authorities engage in this process as a means of protecting tariff concessions, collecting revenue for the governing authority, implementing trade policy, and protecting public health and safety.

Most of the WTO's agreements were the outcome of the 1986-94 Uruguay Round of trade negotiations. Some, including GATT 1994, were revisions of texts that previously existed under GATT as multilateral or plurilateral agreements. Some, such as GATS, were new. The full package of multilateral Uruguay Round agreements is called the round's ...

This is an excellent post and I'm glad you wrote about it, because it can be applied in many scenarios including analysis of net-nets. I don't know the details of Du Art Films, but a caveat to applying the sum of parts analysis is that you have to be able to see it through, or count on someone else to do it.
